GRADES 3-4
YEAR 1 | SPRING

Sunday School
I am the light of the world.
Whoever follows me will never walk in darkness, but will have the light of life.

John 8:12 (NIV 1984)
Read each clue. Write the answer on the lines next to the clue. Then copy the letters from the numbered lines onto the lines below that have the same numbers. You will find out what gift we have through Jesus’ death and resurrection.

1. This is the man who wanted Jesus to heal his daughter.

2. This was the girl’s age.

3. This is how many daughters Jairus and his wife had.

4. This news came to Jairus: “Your daughter is ____________.”

5. This is what many people were doing at Jairus’ house.

6. This is what Jesus said the young girl was doing.

7. This is what the people did when they heard what Jesus said about the girl.

8. This is how many people Jesus took into the young girl’s room.

9. This is what Jesus held as he said, “My child, get up!”

10. This is what Jesus told the girl’s parents to give her.

11. This is what people must face because of their sins.

12. This is the one who took away our sins on the cross and rose on the third day.

Through Jesus’ death and resurrection, we have the gift of _____________.

Poetry and Comfort

Poetry can take many different shapes and forms. Below is a poem that uses a diamond pattern. The number of words per line is shown on the left. Use this form of poetry to write a poem about today’s Bible story. You may begin with one of these words: Jairus, daughter, or Jesus.

PART 1

Poem:

1. Death
2. A sleeping
3. Defeated by Jesus
4. Eternal life is ours
3. Freedom from sin
2. Forever praise
1. Heaven

PART 2

Make the head below look like you. Then imagine that you are going to visit a family of believers that has recently lost a loved one. In the speech bubble, write what you could say to comfort that family.

Treasure in a Treasure

Cut out the letters below. Put them in order so that the words inside the letters form the first two stanzas of hymn 152. Then read the large letters to find a hidden message!

I know that my Redeemer lives; what shall I fear? He is gone to his eternal glory; who among the living shall see him?

He lives, He lives; hallelujah! He lives, all-exalted; hallelujah! He lives triumphant; hallelujah! He lives exalted; hallelujah!

He lives who was once dead; what comfort this sweet sentence! He lives! He gives! He gives! He gives!
