Christ the Lord Is Risen Today; Alleluia

1 Christ the Lord is ris’n to-day;
2 For the sheep the Lamb has bled;
3 Christ, the victim unde-filed,
4 Christ, who once for sinners bled,

Christians, has ten on your way;
Sinless in the sinners’ stead.
God and sinners reconciled.
Now the first-born from the dead,

See the place where he was laid;
“Christ is ris’n,” today we cry;
While, in strange and awe-full strife,
Throned in endless might and pow’r,

Praise him for the ransom paid.
Now he lives, no more to die.
Met together death and life.
Lives and reigns for evermore.

Tune: Robert Williams, c. 1781-1821
